* According to the Congressional Research Service, "New Hampshire does not distribute nominal LIHEAP payments but does allow an application for LIHEAP to qualify the household for the Standard Utility Allowance (which can result in a higher SNAP benefit)."
 Notes: Delaware has not made nominal payments since 2012. Maine has a law that may require it to maximize food stamp benefits whenever possible.

Poverty and psychosocial outcomes Children living in poverty are at greater risk of behavioural and emotional problems. Some behavioural problems may include impulsivity, difficulty getting along with peers, aggression, attention deficit/hyperactivity disorder (ADHD), and conduct disorder. Some emotional problems may include feelings of anxiety, depression, and low self-esteem. Poverty and economic hardship are particularly difficult for parents who may experience chronic stress, depression, marital distress and show tougher parenting behaviors.
